Dear [redacted]

I very much appreciated receiving the updated drafts and your notes, and it is obvious that you are all working hard to come out with a solid report. You asked that we review the paper for security issues, and we do find some problems. I suggest that when you are next in the building, you arrange to meet with [redacted] the Chairman of the USIB Security Committee, to go over these issues.

The section on covert action looks good to me, but I have asked [redacted] to take a look at it as well. I'm sure he will be in touch if he has any comments.

The draft on Intelligence Structures does give me a little difficulty. It reaches conclusions, but provides very little analytic backstopping to support them. I know that you have to write an unclassified report, but I think some discussion of other options and your reasons for dismissing them would be useful.

I have talked with [redacted] and he will be sending us the final draft for formal comments, so we will not submit any formal comments now. [redacted] has encouraged our comments, just as you have, on an informal basis, and we spent some time on this with [redacted] here last week. [redacted] also had some specific comments on the paper, and I am attaching those to help you and [redacted] in the present redrafting.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

Associate Deputy to the DCI
for the Intelligence Community
